HEALTH NUGGET

"The Family that Exercise Together Stays Healthy"

Exercising as a family unit will improve family bonds and you can find ways to stay active all year round. Start by identifying at least three 30-minute time slots this week for activities like taking a walk, playing sports, or doing active chores. Choose times of the day or week when everyone is most likely to stick to the schedule.

Everyone can benefit by having a healthy weight, manage stress, improve sleep, lower the risks of diabetes, heart disease and other serious conditions.
